VOL. XLIII., No. 9

NEW YORK, March 4, 1893.

WHOLE NO. 1101

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

General Jackson.

By JAMES PARTON. The third volume in the Great Commander Series, edited by Gen. James Grant Wilson. With portrait and maps. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $1.50.

The last literary work of James Parton, completed just before his death, was the preparation of this volume. It is a model miniature biography, possessing throughout all the interest of a romance.

An Atlas of Astronomy.

By Sir ROBERT S. BALL, F.R.S., Professor of Astronomy and Geometry at the University of Cambridge, author of "Starland," "The Cause of an Ice Age," etc. With 72 plates, explanatory text and complete index. Small 4to, cloth, $4.00.

"The high reputation of Sir Robert Ball as a writer on astronomy at once popular and scientific, is in itself a more than sufficient recommendation of his newly published 'Atlas of Astronomy.' The plates are clear and well arranged, and those of them which represent the more striking aspects of the more important heavenly bodies are very beautifully executed. The introduction is written with Sir Robert Ball's well-known lucidity and simplicity of exposition, and altogether the Atlas is admirably adapted to meet the needs and smooth the difficulties of young and inexperienced students of astronomy, as well as materially to assist the researches of those that are more advanced."—London Times.

New Revised Edition of Lecky's England and Ireland.

A History of England in the Eighteenth Century.

By WILLIAM E. H. LECKY. Cabinet Edition, seven vols., 12mo, cloth, $7.00.

The Diary of an Idle Woman in Constantinople.

By FRANCES ELLIOT, author of "The Diary of an Idle Woman in Sicily," "The Italians," etc. With plan and illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

"Those who love the romance of history better than its dry facts will probably find 'The Diary of an Idle Woman in Constantinople' a book to their taste. The author has rebuilt and repeopled the romantic scenes of this essentially Eastern city, gathering her information largely from Gibbon, Von Hammer and similar writers, and remoulding its shape according to her own ideas of what is most interesting. Thus details of dynasties and statistics are thrown aside, and she dwells on the beauties, natural and human, of a long line of favorite Sultans, and of Byzantium of old and the Golden Horn to-day. The author gives us material very much more difficult of access in the ordinary way."—London Literary World.

Dr. Paull's Theory.

By Mrs. A. M. DIEHL, author of "The Garden of Eden," etc. No. 112, Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

"Dr. Paull's Theory" will be found to be a romance altogether out of the common. In this striking book the author has treated a novel theme in a manner which enchains the reader's interest.

A History of Ireland in the Eighteenth Century.

By WILLIAM E. H. LECKY. Cabinet Edition, five vols., 12mo, cloth, $5.00.

The "History of Ireland" was formerly included in the eight-volume edition of the "History of England." By a rearrangement and revision of the contents the two histories now appear separately as above, each complete in itself, but bound uniformly.

The well-known high character of this standard work needs no fresh commendation.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish shortly a volume made from Mr. Horatio Bridges' recollections of Hawthorne, which originally appeared in Harper's Magazine. New portraits will add a special interest to the book.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just ready "The Statesman's Year-Book" for 1893, edited by J. Scott Keltie, which for thirty years has sustained the reputation of being the best work of its kind, useful alike to the writer and statesman.

PORTER & COATES will publish on March 6 two books for boys: "Facing the World, or, the haps and mishaps of Harry Vane," by Horatio Alger, Jr., and "Two Ways of Becoming a Hunter," by Harry Castlemon. They will be issued in uniform bindings.

THOMAS WHITTAKER announces "Christ and Modern Unbelief," the Rev. Randolph H. McKim's new book, which will appear this week; also, "Comments at the Cross," a series of sermons on the remarks made by those who witnessed the Crucifixion, by the Rev. Cameron Mann, of Kansas City, Mo.

BENJ. R. TUCKER, New York, will publish early in March a volume with the unique title: "Instead of a Book: by a man too busy to write one." The work will consist of a classified collection of Mr. Tucker's own writings for his weekly paper, Liberty, and is intended to serve as a text-book of philosophical anarchism. It will contain as a frontispiece a portrait of the author.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have in preparation "Wagner and His Works," by Henry T. Finck, in two volumes, with portraits; "Art Out of Doors: a book of hints," by Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer; "How to Know the Wild Flowers," by Mrs. William Starr Dana, with 100 illustrations by Marion Satterlee; and "Homes in Town and Country," by Russell Sturgis, the late John W. Root, of Chicago, Bruce Price, Donald G. Mitchell, Samuel Parsons, Jr., and W. A. Linn.

TAIT, SONS & Co. have just ready three new novels: "Loaded Dice," by Edgar Fawcett, a story dealing with phases of Continental life, described with this clever writer's never-failing skill; "Christine," a strong novel by Adeline Sergeant, describing a young girl's experiences in Egypt; and "Wrostell's Weird," a bright love-tale by Helen Mathers. "Wrostell" being a dreary old castle set in the heart of an Irish bog, where the young heir to the estate is compelled to pass four months of each year. The consequences of his first visit are brightly told.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT Co. have lately published a third revised and corrected three-volume edition of the "Life of Benjamin Franklin, written by himself." John Bigelow is the editor, and he has gathered from the Stevens collection, from Franklin's letters to his friend Strahan, and from other sources new and interesting information never before published. They have ready also a new edition of "Our Own Birds," a short and interesting natural history of the birds of the United States, revised and edited by Edward J. Cope, a member of the Academy of Natural Sciences. They announce as the next number in their series of Select Novels a story by Rosa Nouchette Carey, entitled "But Men Must Work."

CASELL & Co. are about to bring out a new edition of Mrs. Helen Mathers' clever book, "One Summer in Hawaii." The present state of affairs in Hawaii and the awakening of general interest in the Sandwich Islands lend special interest to this entertaining account of the people, manners, customs and natural resources of the island. Dr. J. W. Lee's book, "The Making of a Man," recently published by this firm, is now being translated into Japanese, and a large number of English copies of the book have been ordered for circulation among the English-reading Japanese. The work of translation is being done at the instigation of American missionaries in Japan, who say that the book is particularly well adapted to the cultivated Japanese mind, to which the physical, moral and intellectual development of man is an absorbing subject.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Bornhak, Conrad. Local government of country communities in Prussia. Phil., American Acad. of Political and Social Science, [1893.] 16 p. O. (Publications of the society, no. 73.) pap., 15 c.

Two important laws for the administration of country communities have been lately passed in Prussia. In 1891 an act for the government of country communities in the provinces of eastern and western Prussia, Brandenburg, Pomerania, Silesia, Posen and Saxony, went into force, and in the following year it was extended with like modifications to the province of Schleswick-Holstein. The importance of these acts is not to be underrated, for they put an end to the last remains of the feudal system in Prussia. This paper briefly examines the character of these reforms, both from a political and an historical point of view.

ber, 1889, was the inciting cause of this volume, the author having been sent out by the New York Tribune, of which he is foreign editor, to observe and report upon the condition of things in Brazil at that time. He remained nine months in South America and Central America and also visited Mexico and Cuba. His work presents besides graphic pictures of travel an extended study, rich in facts and entertaining in style, of the social, political and commercial conditions of the people of these countries and of their relations with the United States.

Garland, Hamlin. Prairie folks. Chic., F. J. Schulte & Co., 1893. c. '92. 5-255 p. D. (The Ariel lib., no. 25.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Pioneer life on the western prairies is portrayed in nine stories told in a vein at once humorous and pathetic. These are entitled: Uncle Ethan's speculation; The test of Elder Pill; William Bacon's hired man; Sim Burn's wife; Saturday night on the farm; Village cronies; Drifting Crane; Old Daddy Derring; The sociable at Dudley's.

Percival, H. R. A digest of theology: a brief statement of Christian doctrine according to the consensus of the great theologians of the one holy Catholic and apostolic church; with an appendix containing in English the doctrinal decrees of the ecumenical synods. Phil., J. Jos. McVey, 1893. 14+311 p. D. cl., net, $2.

The writer states that he has followed in the main the order of the Index Systematicus at the end of Denziger's Enchiridion symbolorum et definitionum, and that this work contains in handy form all the decrees of the general councils of the Protestant Episcopal Church, with all the rulings which bind the Roman communion to this day. The author's aim has been to present the old truths of the Gospel in the old familiar way and in the old familiar language, and as far as possible in the language of the scientific theology of the Catholic Church. His object is to set forth what the doctrine of the Anglican communion should be if it acted on the principle accepted by the Episcopal Church east and west. Contains a list of authorities cited (6 p.).

Phelps, H. P. New York state legislative souvenir for 1893; with portraits of the members of both houses and an illustrated sketch of the capitol. 2d year. Albany, N. Y., Phelps & Kellogg, No. 38 State st., 1893. c. '96. O. pap., 50 c.

*Philadelphia reports: cont. decisions published in The Legal Intelligencer during 1889, 1890 and 1891; all cases reviewed by the supreme court being omitted; comp. by H. C. Brown. V. 20. Phil., E. P. Allinson, 1893. c. 6+508 p. O. shp., $4.50.

Pollock, Walter Herries. King Zub. N. Y., Tait, Sons & Co., [1893.] c. '92. 285 p. D. cl., $1.25; pap., 50 c.

Nine short stories founded on incidents of stage history, and episodes in the career of divers members of the theatrical profession. These are entitled, King Zub: The last act; A fleeting show; A phantom fish; Stage fright; The last droschky; Sir Jocelyn's cap; Three meetings; Mated by magic. King Zub tells how a performing dog of that name was lost after a performance in Madrid and restored to his owner through a clever trick perpetrated on a stranger in London.

*Ray, C. A. Negligence of imposed duties, carriers of passengers. Rochester, N. Y., The Lawyers' Co-op. Pub. Co., 1893. c. 78+820 p. O. shp., $6.

Robinson, H. N. Robinson's new practical arithmetic for common schools and academies. N. Y., American Book Co., [1893.] 416 p. D. hf. leath., 65 c.

Nothing of value or merit in the old "Practical arithmetic" has been discarded in this revision, the scheme of which is one rather of judicious addition than of omission. The book in its present shape meets the requirements of all the standard examinations prescribed for admission to academic grade or for preparation for the best scientific schools of the country.

Robinson, H. N. Robinson's new primary arithmetic. N. Y., American Book Co., 1893. 80 p. D. bds., 18 c.

Robinson, H. N. Robinson's new rudiments of arithmetic. N. Y., American Book Co., [1893.] c. '92. 2-224 p. D. cl., 30 c.

Although this edition is a thorough revision, all the features which have contributed to the popularity of the "Rudiments" have been retained, and the changes made have been only such as would bring the book up to date. One of the features of the revision consists in the addition of about forty pages of introductory exercises.

Scott, Sir Walter. Marmion: a tale of Flodden field. N. Y., American Book Co., 1892 [1893.] c. '92. 3-247 p. por. D. (English classics for schools.) bds., 20 c.

The works already issued are: Waverley, 2 v.; Guy Mannering, 2 v.; The Antiquary, 2 v.; Rob Roy, 2 v.; Heart of Midlothian, 2 v.

Skeel, Adelaide. My three-legged storyteller. Phil., Rufus C. Hartranft, 1892 [1893.] c. '92. 2-203 p. O. bds., $1; pap., 50 c.

A collection of short stories; the "three-legged" is a photographic camera, and Miss Skeel tells the story of its records and discoveries in entertaining fashion. The book was intended for the holiday season, being enclosed in a white and silver binding and printed on uncut paper showing generous margins.

*United States. Supreme ct. Reports. V. 146. Oct. term, 1892. J. C. Bancroft Davis. N. Y. and Alb., Banks & Bros., 1893. c. 22+743 p. O. shp., $2.50.

Valera, Juan. Commander Mendoza; [from the Spanish,] by Mary J. Serrano. N. Y., Appleton, 1893. c. 2+291 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 111.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

After a life of hardship and adventure, largely spent in the service of the Spanish navy in the early years of the century, Commander Mendoza returns in his fiftieth year to his native town of Villabermeja, hoping there to spend his remaining days in peace and quietness. A sin of his youth, long forgotten, confronts him in the person of an illegitimate daughter. The mother of this girl is a society woman, who hopes to expiate her sin by making her daughter either marry the real heir of her husband's wealth or retire to a convent. The commander's interference in this plan and his own love-story form interesting episodes.

Van Dyke, J. C. Art for art's sake: seven university lectures on the technical beauties of painting. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1893. c. 12+249 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The drift of these lectures is not towards teaching one how to paint a picture, but rather toward giving one some idea of how to appreciate a picture after it has been painted. With this object in view the writer has explained and illustrated such pictorial motives as color, tone, atmosphere, values, perspective. He calls attention to certain well-known pictures, pointing out their good and bad qualities, and making his remarks apply as much as possible to modern art.

Vincent, J. H., (Bp.) The story of a letter. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1893. c. 44 p. S. (The book of book ser., Ephesians.) pap., 20 c.

The subject of this little book is Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians.

Warren, H: White, (Bp.) The Bible in the world's education. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1893. c. '92. 2-320 p. por. D. (Wycliffe lectures.) cl., $1.

The first annual course of lectures on the Wycliffe foundation, for teaching the English Bible to the students of the University of Denver. The eleven lectures consider why the Bible was written, its ideals, its prophecies and predictions, its verbal felicities and intensities, its relation to college students and studies, etc.

*Watson, Lily. The hill of angles. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., 1893. 224 p. il. 12°, (Maple-leaf ser.) cl., $1.25.

Weismann, A: The germ-plasm: a theory of heredity; [from the German,] by W. Newton Parker and Harriet Rönnfeldt. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1893. c. '92-'93. 19+477 p. il. D. (Contemporary sci. ser.) cl., $2.50.

Prof. Weismann, of the University of Freiburg-in-Baden, the highest authority on this subject, deals in this volume in a spirit of inquiry and investigation with the fundamental problems of heredity in plants, animals and man. His work is simply written and is for all who are interested in biological problems. The introduction is historical and descriptive. The four succeeding parts treat of "The material basis of heredity," "Heredity in its relation to monogonic reproduction," "The phenomena of heredity resulting from sexual reproduction" and "The transformation of species, its origin in the idioplasm."

*Wild life on the plains and horrors of Indian warfare. Milwaukee, Wis., C. N. Caspar, 1892 [1893.] 592 p. il. 8°, cl., $2.

PICK-UPS.

IN A GERMAN BOOK-STORE.—Bookseller: What do you wish? Romantic Backfisch: Werther's Complete Sorrows. — Fliegende Blätter.

LOCATED.—Literary Visitor: Willie, do you know who the Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table is?—Wily Willie: Yes, sir; it's our hired girl.—Vogue.

THE bibliomaniac may have a warm spot in his heart for the battered first edition, but the author looks with greater satisfaction on the cheap but popular twentieth.—Puck.

WHAT IS IT GOOD FOR?—A man advertises a book entitled "Where Is My Dog?" This may be a good way to sell a book, but it's a mighty bad way to find a dog.—Mail and Express.

DRIVEN TO DRINK.—"What makes you so thirsty to-day, old fellow?" "I had to stick one of those deucedly large Columbian stamps on the letter my wife gave me to mail."—Puck.

THE LITERARY ART MARKET.—First Poet: How are you making out these days? Second Poet: Immense! Last week I sold four "Pastels in Prose," two "Aquarelles in Rhyme" and three "Etchings in Poetry," and I am at work now on an "Oil Painting in Blank Verse!"—Puck.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL VOLUMES.—Spokesman: We fellows is a gittin' a kind o' tired o' de readin'-matter we's bin a gittin' from dis library, an' we want ter know why you don't stock de place wid books wot'll interest us, like "De Knife in de Heart," or "De Dead Man's Socks," or sumthin' o' that kind.—Life.

HAD THE LITERARY THINGS.—Hicks: Come into the library now, old man. Dix: Why, I didn't know you had a library. Hicks: Oh, yes. Dix: How many volumes have you got?

Hicks: Oh, I don't know much about the volumes, but I've got a couple of fine old library chairs and a box of genuine Henry James cigars.—Somerville Journal.

AT THE LIBRARY WINDOW.—A librarian recently received an instalment of one of F. Marion Crawford's new novels billed as "6 Down in Arizona" [Don Orsino].—A lady who had evidently grown tired of applying unsuccessfully for Mrs. Henry Wood's masterpiece (?) handed in a slip on which she expressed her willingness to take "East Lynne by any author."

NOT REALISTIC.—Young Author: Would you call my novel realism or romance? Friend: What does the heroine say when she accepts the hero? Young Author: Oh, she says: "Yes, dear George, we will tread life's path together, one in heart and purpose, bearing each other's burdens, sharing each other's grief, doubling each—" Friend: Well, then, it isn't realism. A real girl would no more think of making a speech on such an occasion than of singing a song or cutting a pigeon-wing.—Puck.

THE DRUMMER'S PETITION.—A hungry drummer out in the wilds of Nebraska put up the following pathetic petition, to which many of the Eastern travellers will respond "So mote it be!"

"Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight!
Feed me on mush again just for to-night;
I have grown weary of restaurant fakes,
Petrified sandwiches, vulcanized steaks,
Oysters that sleep in a watery bath,
Butter as strong as Goliath of Gath;
Weary of paying for what I can't eat,
Chewing trunk hinges, and calling it meat.
Backward, turn backward, for weary I am!
Give me a whack at my grandmother's jam;
Let me drink of the milk that has never been skimmed,
Let me eat butter whose hair has been trimmed;
Let me but once have an old-fashioned pie,
Thereafter in peace I may curl up and die.
I have been chewing old scrap-iron for years,
Can you, then, wonder I'm melting in tears?"

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 4, 1893.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

RESTRICTING THE SALE OF TRASH.

THE step taken by Col. George Bliss, president of the Manhattan News Co., in declining to expose for sale flash periodicals upon the news-stands of the elevated railroads in New York City, unless advanced copies have been inspected and approved by him, seems, as the New York Times puts it, a "rainbow of promise projected athwart the sky of literature and virtue." With due allowance for satire, the move is in line with the position we have always taken concerning the bookseller who is true to his profession—namely, that without the bookseller the manufacturers of the prurient and trashy printed stuff would be doomed. They would either have to reform or go out of business.

Too many booksellers and newsdealers, we are afraid, lose sight of the fact that their calling is one of great responsibility, and that they may be agents for evil as well as good. A druggist, the world over, is not allowed to sell poisonous drugs to children, and even when he sells them to grown people he is compelled in many countries to take certain precautions, so that no harm may arise. The bookseller, on the contrary, is subjected to no restrictions, to no surveillance, and need render no account. He may sell the most pestiferous trash, poisoning the minds and arousing the passions of youth, without let or hindrance, excepting possibly when some agent of a society for the suppression of vice feels obliged to earn his salary, or somebody else is in need of a boom to his reputation. He may every day sell with impunity police gazettes and other sheets familiarizing readers with every kind of vice and crime, hardening the feelings and corroding the conscience until crime and wickedness become so familiar that indulgence in the one and perpetration of the other almost become matters of course.

There has grown up in late years a class of absolutely trashy and debasing reading-matter which does not come within the jurisdiction of the law regulating the sale of obscene literature, and which, we regret to say, is therefore flaunted with impunity from the windows and stands of newsdealers who might be engaged in better business. Almost daily certain mills grind out such stuff in the shape of libraries and story-papers, placed by their price within the reach of thousands of children, that do considerably more to injure the mind and morals of growing youth than is suspected.

And while youth is so liberally supplied its elders are not forgotten, as a look at the average news-stand will confirm. Flamboyant newspapers with pictures and reading-matter crowding the line of indecency as far as the law permits—nasty and suggestive books galore. Public custom, if not public taste, may have changed; but it is time that a reaction should set in.

The bookseller and his ally, the newsdealer, may well follow the example set by Col. Bliss, who, though a man of the world, is yet a cultivated gentleman and may be trusted to draw the line where mere fun or innocent gallantry shades off into indelicacy or downright indecency. No intelligent or respectable bookseller or newsdealer will think of bartering away his reputation for however large a sum of money that might be made in disseminating immoral literature. Let him then beware lest he lend a hand in the distribution of reading-matter that awakens a thirst for such.

We do not expect, nor even wish, booksellers to band themselves together as an Association for the Sale of Godly Books; but we think that it is about time that members of the book trade, especially those connected with the periodical part of it, positively refuse to sell or keep in stock such printed matter as common sense tells them is dangerous. They may lose in the beginning by such a course, but only to benefit in the end, besides having the satisfaction of knowing that they are in some degree helping to elevate the standard of morality among their fellow-creatures. If booksellers would but consider the greatness of their mission, they would see that they wield an enormous power. Will they use it for good?

ICELAND BOOKSELLERS.

W. E. Mead, in The Atlantic Monthly for February.

A GLANCE at the booksellers and their shops may be suggestive. Nearly every visitor to Iceland begins his acquaintance with the country at the capital, Reykjavik, and I was no exception. A very few minutes after I had been rowed ashore from the little steamer, and had engaged rooms at the hotel, I went in search of a bookseller. I soon learned that the most successful way to find books was to look in unlikely places. Scarcely a dealer keeps a stock of any size, and he seems to hide it as much as possible. The photographer has a few volumes, and the postmaster a few more. One can buy text-books at the office of one of the little newspapers published at Reykjavik; and by going up-stairs in a stone school-house and knocking at the proper door one can find a very tolerable miscellaneous collection of text-books and other works for sale at the published prices—with a slight increase for strangers. One of the largest shops is beside the Althing House, where I found a greater variety of books and more courtesy than anywhere else in Reykjavik. In fact, the cordiality of the proprietor, who is also a publisher, became slightly embarrassing, after I had made some considerable purchases of him; for toward the close of my stay in Reykjavik I was never sure that I should be able to finish my dinner without being told that the bookseller was waiting to see me. He usually brought a pamphlet or book which he had published, and which he insisted on presenting to me. Among his gifts was an Icelandic translation of Hamlet—the first ever made—a volume of travels in England, a book of modern Icelandic poems and various pamphlets. I may add, as an aside, that he seemed to care nothing for the payment of my bill, and showed no hesitation in letting it run till I could send him a draft from America.

The thought that most impresses one, in looking through these little book-shops, is that readers are shut out almost entirely from the inspiration and suggestion of seeing large quantities of new books exposed for sale. Small opportunity is afforded for testing a book before buying it, and nobody except a scholar in constant touch with the outer world can realize what is doing in the various departments of literature and research. The books ordinarily on sale are school-books, isolated specimens of Danish, English, French and German works, and a number of the better-known Icelandic publications. Very popular is a recent reprint, in three volumes, of the shorter Icelandic sagas. Some modern Icelandic poems, a few modern Icelandic romances, and treatises of more or less scholarship comprise the greater part of the stock. Whenever books are wanted from abroad, they are usually ordered from Copenhagen; but communication with the outside world is slow and expensive, and during certain months impossible.

The number of volumes printed in Iceland is limited; but a few appear every year with "Reykjavik" or "Akureyri" on the title-page. Several newspapers are published at Reykjavik, all ridiculously small in comparison with English or American papers, yet serving to keep up a slender connection with the far-away world, and to chronicle the events of a country where little or nothing happens. One weekly sheet, the Isa-fold, has an extensive circulation in the remote country districts.

RECEPTION TO THE NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

ON the afternoon of February 23 an "authors' and publishers' luncheon" was given by Boston publishers at the Vendome to the members of the National Education Association, then in session in the city. Among the guests were Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, T. B. Aldrich, J. T. Trowbridge, Margaret F. Deland, Edna Dean Proctor, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Sarah Orne Jewett, Justin Winsor, Professor Charles Eliot Norton and many others.

Dr. Holmes was the last to arrive and was immediately escorted to the raised platform at the end of the banquet-hall, where he was kept engaged for some minutes in hand-shaking. Mr. Houghton, of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., presided, and after making a short address of welcome introduced Dr. Holmes. He made a pleasant, brief speech in reply, and closed by reading the following verses which, he said, "did not exist in word or shape before 10:30 o'clock to-day:"

"Teacher of teachers, yours the task,
Noblest that noble minds can ask,
High up Ionia's marmorous mount,
To watch, to guard the sacred fount
That feeds the stream below;
To guide the hurrying flood that fills
A thousand silvery rippling rills
In ever-widening flow.

"Rich is the harvest from the fields
That bounteous Nature kindly yields;
But fairer growths enrich the soil,
Ploughed deep by thought and wearied toil
In learning's broad domain,
And where the leaves, the flowers, the fruits,
Without your watering at the roots
To fill each branching plain?

"Welcome! The author's firmest friends,
Your voice the surest good deed lends,
Of you the growing mind demands
The patient care, the guiding hands,
Through all the mists of morn.
You knowing well the future's need,
Your prescient wisdom sows the seed
To fire the years unborn."

THE AUTHORS' CLUB'S DECENNIAL.

THE Authors' Club celebrated its tenth birthday on February 28 by a dinner at the Hotel St. Denis, which was attended not only by many more or less famous members of the club but also by more or less famous authors who are not members. Seventy-five authors were present. Edward Eggleston presided. Among those present were Richard Malcolm Johnston, Joseph Jefferson, W. D. Howells, Richard Henry Stoddard, John Burroughs, George W. Cable, Brander Matthews, Richard Watson Gilder, Noah Brooks, H. M. Alden, H. H. Boyesen, Andrew Carnegie, W. H. Bishop, R. R. Bowker, H. E. Krehbiel, Frank Stockton, E. C. Stedman, T. A. Janvier and Titus Munson Coan. The single toast of the evening, "The Authors' Club," was proposed by Edward Eggleston. Richard Henry Stoddard read an original poem. The honors of the evening, in the matter of speaking, were carried off by Joseph Jefferson and John Burroughs, each of whom made a short speech full of wit and epigram. Richard Malcolm Johnston, Parke Godwin, Andrew Carnegie, E. C. Stedman, Gen. Horace Porter, Thomas Nelson Page, W. H. McElroy and F. Hopkinson Smith also made capital ten-minute speeches. It was not until after midnight that the festivities ended.

HOW TO SWEEP OUT A STORE.

THE following wrinkle, originally suggested by a correspondent of the Boots and Shoes Weekly, may be recommended as a practical and efficient way of sweeping a board floor without creating much dust. Of course care must be taken not to get too much oil on the broom at one time, and to let it soak through the willow before setting it down to sweep:

As a great deal of harm is often done in sweeping out a store by dust soiling we believe our plan is worthy of adoption. Take a shallow pan, and partly fill it with kerosene oil. Then dip the broom into the oil, turning the broom-handle to the floor for a minute or two, long enough to allow the oil to run into the broom. Use a soft, light broom. You may have to dip the broom three or four times. After sweeping a few times you will have no dust, and your floor will be white and clean. The smell of oil soon passes off. This is the cleanest way on earth to sweep out a store. In sweeping after business hours it is a benefit to the stock, as no moths will bother the goods. If you will try it for a week it will always be done. No oil will get on the floor to injure it (it will evaporate) if you are careful not to use the broom too suddenly after dipping.

COMMUNICATIONS.

THE "COSMOPOLIS" CONTROVERSY.

CHICAGO, February 22, 1893.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: Monday, Feb. 20, we received from Alphonse Lemerre, in answer to our letter which was published in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY [February 18], a cablegram informing us that we are and have been the only authorized publishers of "Cosmopolis." In answer to a cablegram whether Tait, Sons & Co. were authorized, he informed us by cable that Tait, Sons & Co. were not authorized. When we received a letter from Tait, Sons & Co., in which they positively stated that they were the authorized publishers, we believed them, as we usually go on the principle that every man should be considered honest until he has been found otherwise. Misrepresentations in some quarter, which is not very difficult to discover, have led us to say that we would withdraw the words "authorized edition" from our book. It is needless to say that we shall not withdraw these words, but will continue to be, as we have been, the only authorized publishers of "Cosmopolis." Very truly yours,

CHARLES H. SERGEL &amp; CO.

NEW YORK, February 28, 1893.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: With reference to Messrs. Chas. H. Sergel & Company's communication, probably the best answer to it we can furnish is to reproduce the two cablegrams of the 6th of February (respectively from our agents and from Lemerre, the Paris publisher), which practically close up the matter so far as we are concerned.

CABLEGRAM TO LEMERRE, Paris: "Cable definite answer if we have authorization. Will pay answer."

CABLEGRAM FROM LEMERRE: "We send authorization. Make payment to Meyer."

These cablegrams were the final outcome of lengthy negotiations with Lemerre, and if clear language and good faith on the part of a reputable house count for anything, the exclusive authorization is ours, a view in which M. Lemerre's New York agents have all along concurred.

On the 3d of February prior to the sending of these despatches Meyer Bros. & Co., of this city, who are acting for Lemerre in the matter, had written to him that their arrangement with us was that they should hand over to us the letter of authorization as soon as received, in exchange for our check, and they would remit the money to Lemerre by draft of the French bankers, Lazard freres, as soon as received.

What transpired after we received the cable of the 6th inst. is best told in the following letter from Meyer Bros. & Co.:

13 WEST 24TH ST., NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 28, 1893.
Messrs. Tait, Sons & Co., 31 East 17th St., New York.

DEAR SIR: We beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of this date enclosing copy of circular issued by Messrs. Charles H. Sergel & Co. with reference to the authorized edition of "Cosmopolis." As you wish a statement from us with regard to that circular, we would say that we have had nothing further to do with this matter than simply to carry out M. Lemerre's instructions; and with regard to Messrs. Sergel & Co.'s circular we desire to make the following categorical statement:

First—It was our clear understanding of Lemerre's cablegram of the 6th inst. that it gave to your company, beyond all question, the sole authorization to issue "Cosmopolis" in this country.

Second—We understood from that cable that Lemerre was sending to you through us a written confirmation of the authorization given by cable.

Third—We understood that you were to hand us a check for the price of the authorization ($500) in exchange for the promised letter of authorization, as soon as we should receive it by mail.

Fourth—You sent frequently to us inquiring whether Lemerre's letter had reached us, and after allowing a sufficient time for its arrival you tendered us your check for $500, and made a formal demand upon us for the written authorization.

Fifth—Since the cable of the 6th inst. was received, authorizing and directing you to pay the money to us, M. Lemerre has not, so far as we know, made any request that you should send the money direct to him.

Sixth—We should state that in all the transactions relating to this authorization, your company has not omitted any precaution to secure your rights which prudent and honorable men would consider necessary or advisable, and that you have not been guilty of any action which could justify M. Lemerre in withdrawing the authorization given to you in his cablegram of the 6th inst.

Yours very truly,

MEYER BROS. &amp; COMPANY.

If, as stated by Messrs. Charles H. Sergel & Company in their circular headed "We Are the Only Authorized Publishers of 'Cosmopolis,'" the French publisher has sold the authorized right of issue to them, he has sold what no longer was his to sell, seeing that we complied with all the conditions imposed by him, in tendering payment as directed by him to Meyer Bros. & Co. We must decline to believe that such a statement emanated from Lemerre himself, as it is utterly inconceivable to us that a publisher of his standing should cable to Sergel & Co. that he had refused us the authorization because we had not sent him the money, seeing that in the cable quoted he had instructed us to pay it to his agent here, and that we had offered the amount to these agents.

Is it within the bounds of reason that knowing that we stood ready to pay him 2500 francs on delivery of his written authorization, he should, without notice and before we had time to receive that authorization, agree to sell it to Sergel & Company for 500 francs less, that being the sum Sergel & Company said in their early communications they had agreed with him for the purchase?

Sergel & Company's references in their circular to our "peculiar claim," etc., are unworthy of our notice, but we unequivocally deny their statement that in a letter we said we had paid a large sum for the privilege of issuing the authorized edition. What we did say was, "for that privilege we pay," etc., a statement which was in every respect accurate and truthful, meaning as it did that we had entered into an agreement to pay.

In conclusion we would say that we have taken steps to have this matter cleared up on the spot (i.e., in Paris), and we will leave no stone unturned to get at the exact truth.

We notice that Sergel & Company are discreetly silent as to whether they have tendered payment to Lemerre or whether it has been accepted. In all the circumstances the omission seems a strange one.

It is, of course, quite unnecessary for us to add that we will still continue to style our book the "Only Authorized Edition."

With many apologies for such a trespass upon your space, we are

Yours respectfully,
TAT, SONS & COMPANY.

IN RE A. C. McCLURG.

CHICAGO, February 22, 1893.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: While there is probably much that is not too well founded in the complimentary notice of me which you published in your issue of the 18th inst., there is one statement inadvertently made which it would be wrong for me to allow to stand uncorrected; that is the statement that at the battle of Missionary Ridge I was the first to reach the crest of the ridge. It would very likely be impossible to determine in a line of nearly three miles in length, charging with wonderful uniformity and precision, what fortunate individual first reached the top; but it is very easy for me to say, with absolute certainty, and without fear of contradiction, that I was not the first by any means. If you had said the first and perhaps the only one on the extreme left to reach it on horseback there might possibly be reason for the statement. Certainly the old black horse that got a grape-shot in his nose as he went up and a minie ball in his leg after he reached the summit, and never got any handsome mention in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, or any promotion for it, would not dispute it.

Permit me to add that it might puzzle some of my old soldier friends to understand how "three weeks before the fall of Atlanta he (I) was promoted to lieutenant-colonel in recognition of his (my) gallant services at Jonesboro," inasmuch as the battle of Jonesboro was followed as a result by the fall of Atlanta the following night. The "three weeks" statement is a slight error.

Pardon my calling attention to these errors in your too flattering notice, which to others may seem trifling, and which are probably the result of a hasty condensation of facts from some other source.

Very respectfully yours,
A. C. McCLURG.

OBITUARY NOTES.

SAMUEL L. PELGRIFT died on Sunday, February 19, at his residence in Brooklyn, of heart failure. Mr. Pelgrift had been associated in the publishing business with E. R. Pelton for over thirty years, the two having entered the employ of W. H. Bidwell when boys. Mr. Pelgrift was esteemed by all who knew him for his sterling honesty and great kindness and consideration for others. As an instance of this, during the war, while Mr. Pelton was away, the latter's position with a large increase of salary was offered to Mr. Pelgrift, but was declined, as he was unwilling to take advantage of his friend's absence. Mr. Pelgrift, though a quiet and unostentatious man, was never weary of well-doing, but was always ready with a cheery word or a kind act, and one of his intimate friends has said that so far from speaking slightly of any one, Mr. Pelgrift always found some excuse for what would seem to be the ill conduct of others. For thirty years he had scarcely missed a day from business on account of illness, and within a fortnight had passed a rigid examination for life insurance, so that his sudden death is a severe shock to his family. Mr. Pelgrift was born and had always lived in Brooklyn, where he had many warm friends. He was a veteran of the 13th Regiment, whose medal he held for long and faithful service, and was one of the early members of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association. Mr. Pelgrift leaves a wife and one child.

GEORGE V. SUNDERLAND, for the past seven years travelling salesman for the Worthington Company, died in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., on the 25th of February.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

DR. KNUDTZON is about to publish the complete cuneiform texts of that series of tablets which have commonly but erroneously been said to be inscribed with texts referring to the downfall of the Assyrian Empire, together with transliteration, vocabulary, etc. The expenses incurred in printing the two volumes of this work have been partly defrayed by the University of Christiania.

MRS. FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT tells in the February instalment of her articles now running in Scribner's Magazine about the original of Joan Lowrie, the heroine of "That Lass o' Lowrie's." She was a factory girl who, Mrs. Burnett says, "did not look like a back-street girl at all, though she had clogs on. Somehow she was different." Her father was a drunken brute, but his daughter Mrs. Burnett describes as absolutely fearless, though his habit was to "dance on his wife with his clogs when depressed or irritated." Admirers of the novel will understand it the better after reading Mrs. Burnett's account of this girl.

EMILE ZOLA has no idea of giving up his struggle to become one of the immortals and considers himself a candidate until he shall have attained his end. M. Zola is convinced the prejudice is not against himself but against his books. In France, as in England, he told an interviewer, there is "a mass of not very intelligent people" who object on principle to the kind of literature he produces. On other grounds he cannot see that there can be any objection to him. "The Academicians admit," he says, "that I am a respectable man, that I have no debts, that I am a brave bourgeois whose private life is decent and honorable, that I don't make too bad a figure in a drawing-room, and that I dress just like anybody else," and, dressing like anybody else and behaving like a respectable citizen, he does not see why he should persistently be denied the honor to which he aspires. He is resolved to have it and will probably succeed; for he has on more than one occasion shown remarkable tenacity of purpose.

BUSINESS NOTES.

EASTON PA.—J. H. Lindeman, who conducted a book, stationery and music store at 316 Northampton Street, for the past eight years, has disposed of his stock.

FREMONT, NEB.—Charles Nicodemus succeeds Arthur Gibson in the book and stationery business.

KALAMAZOO, MICH.—Conger & Baumann, booksellers, are offering to compromise at fifty cents on the dollar, thirty, sixty and ninety days in good endorsed paper.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—The Bryant-Douglas Book and Stationery Company was incorporated February 17, with a capital stock of $4000 paid in and divided into forty shares of $100 each. Of this Percy Douglas holds twenty shares, Thomas E. Bryant two shares and Lutie T. Bryant eighteen shares. Messrs. Bryant and Douglas were formerly connected with the late M. H. Dickinson in the book and stationery business, and it is understood that they have secured the stock and store of another Main Street stationery dealer.

LAKE CHARLES, LA.—A. O. Forister has opened a book and stationery store here. He was previously at Orange, Tex.

LIGONIER, IND.—W. R. Treash, bookseller, is reported to have sold out.

MEYERSDALE, PA.—K. M. Newcomer has started a book-store here.

MIDDLETON, CONN.—J. Allison Broatch has purchased the business and stock of books, stationery, etc., of D. C. Tyler, and is carrying on the business.

NEW YORK CITY.—Richard A. Saalfeld, music publisher, 843 Broadway, has made an assignment. He began business in 1872 and became embarrassed in 1884, with liabilities of $20,500, but he obtained an extension from his creditors, running over two years, and he paid them in full. In May last he made a detailed statement, showing assets $137,000 and liabilities $33,000.

NEW YORK CITY.—Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, on February 23, gave a decision setting aside as fraudulent and void the assignment made by Edward Goodenough as surviving partner of the firm of Goodenough & Woglom, on June 20, 1888. The decision was rendered in an action brought by judgment creditors of the firm. The judge said that the assignment was plainly fraudulent in view of the fact that prior to the assignment being made stock of the assignors was transferred to their wives, and the assignment must be set aside and a receiver appointed. This action, we understand, does not affect the creditors of the Goodenough & Woglom Company, of which A. M. Tomkins is manager.

NEW YORK CITY.—William J. Kelly has resumed business as publisher of art and miscellaneous books, prints, etc., with office and sales-room at 128 W. 23d Street. He will be ready in a week or two to make definite announcement of his new books.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mr. Little, the receiver for the Worthington Company, is making fair progress with the accounts. He expresses the hope to be able to pay 100 cents on the dollar.

NEW YORK CITY.—The accountants are still at work on the affairs of the United States Book Company, and may be for some time yet, as the snarls and tangles seem to be endless. Under the circumstances the reorganization committee does not feel justified to make a statement at present. The receiver has now charge of all the branches, and is pushing the sales to the full extent of his power.

NEW YORK CITY.—Norman L. Munro's publishing house, 24 and 26 Vandewater Street, was partially destroyed by fire on the 28th of February. The building is eight stories high, with strong brick walls, but was not fire-proof. It was erected in 1883, and was owned by Mr. Munro. He practically occupied the entire building for the publication of The Family Story Paper, Golden Hours and other papers. The work of publication had been divided, however, so that the composing-room was conducted by W. C. Dunn on the top floor, the plates were prepared by the Raisbeck Electrotypes Company on the third floor, and the binding was done by Henry Cortelyou & Co. on the sixth floor. Mr. Munro made arrangements temporarily for the publication of The Family Story Paper in another building. The cause of the fire was not known. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

NEW YORK CITY.—John Beacham, for many years at 7 Barclay Street, has removed his stock of old and rare books, etc., to 149 W. 23d Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The announcement in a daily paper that Mitchell's is to sell out by auction is premature and not quite correct. Mr. Mitchell, on account of ill health, will retire from the business, and Messrs. Bowden & Smith will continue it on other lines—making their headquarters probably on Nassau Street. Further particulars will be given later.

NORTHAMPTON, MASS.—Mr. S. E. Bridgman, senior partner of S. E. Bridgman & Co., the proprietors of the well-known "College Book-store," in company with his wife, on the 7th inst. will start on a trip around the country, touching New Orleans, Mexico and California. On his return he will visit the World's Fair in Chicago. He hopes to be home in the store about the middle of June next.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Behm & Gerhart, booksellers, have dissolved partnership. J. C. Gerhart continues.

REDLANDS, CAL.—C. C. Beatty and Mrs. L. E. Foote compose the new firm of Beatty & Foote, booksellers and stationers.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.—Inadvertently we located the Utah Book and Stationery Co. in our issue of February 18 at a place which has no existence. They are in this city at 18 West 1st South Street in the McCormack block. D. M. McAllister is the manager.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—The style of the firm that succeeded J. S. Barr & Co., booksellers, at 31 S. Limestone Street, is Carson Brothers, not Sterling and Theodore Carson.

TEMPLE, TEX.—S. A. Douglas, bookseller, has been succeeded by J. W. Lee.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—His many friends in the trade will be pleased to hear that John M. Dean, of the old firm of John M. Dean & Co., has opened an elegant new book and stationery store on West 4th Street, opposite the government building, and will be glad to receive catalogues and price-lists from dealers and manufacturers.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have compiled a new and unique catalogue for the use of those interested in school libraries. Its strong feature lies in the fact that the books listed are wholly from those adopted by the boards of education of some seven or eight important States for their public school libraries. Thus each book has the especial recommendation of having been selected by competent authorities, making the catalogue particularly desirable for the use of any one who is choosing books for young people, either for public, school or home libraries. The size, kind of type, number of pages and price of each book are given, with a brief description or comment intimating its contents and general aim. Figures representing the school grades for which the book is considered suitable are entered in the margin. (96 p., 16°.)

The Charity Organization Review, published by Longmans, Green & Co., is now printing a catalogue of the library of the organization. The issue for February covers the alphabet from Baltimore to Chadwick, and extends from the seventeenth to the forty-eighth page.

CATALOGUES OF NEW AND SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—Edward Baker, 14 John Bright St., Birmingham, Bibliography and priced catalogue of early railway books, the collection forming a complete history of railways 1824-1860. (24 p., 16°, 6d.)—Brentano's, 31 Union Square, North, N. Y., Clearance catalogue. (16 p., 8°.)—John W. Cadby, 357 River St., Troy, N. Y., Miscellaneous. (No. 10, 32 p., 8°.)—Chain & Hardy Co., Denver, Col., Second-hand law-books. (Jan., 1893. 18 p. 32°.)—A. S. Clark, 34 Park Row, N. Y., Odds and ends from a literary junk-shop. (No. 35, 32 p. 8°.) An interesting catalogue which, if printed on a little better paper, would be considerably more useful, because more easily read than now.—W. O. Davie, 16 E. 4th St., Cincinnati, O., Law, Politics, Banking, Political and Legal Biography. (No. 41, 25 p., 8°.)—E. Dufossé, 27 Rue Guénégaud, Paris, Americana. (9th series, No. 5. 1033 titles.)—Otto Harrassowitz, 14 Queerstr., Leipzig, Arische Linguistik, einschliesslich der nicht-arischen sprachen Indiens, including the library of the late Dr. C. Schütz, a celebrated Sanscrit scholar. (No. 187, 1890 titles.)—J. B. Lippincott Co., Philadelphia, Classified catalogue of publications and importations, prefaced by an interesting illustrated history of this famous publishing house. (104 p., 8°.)—Macmillan & Co., 112 4th Ave., N. Y., List of works by American authors published by this house, to which is added a list of works copyrighted in the United States since the passing of the copyright act of July, 1891. (48 p., 16°.)—Macmillan & Bowes, Cambridge, Eng., Miscellaneous from the library of Prof. John Couch Adams, etc. (No. 244, 501 titles.)—Geodefroy-Mayer, 47 Rue Richer, Paris, Collection of portraits, historical prints, etc., including rare and interesting American portraits, chiefly Revolutionary. (No. 12, 3338 titles.)—H. Sotheran, 136 Strand, London, W. C., Clearance Catalogue. (No. 3, Sc-Z, 193-280 p., 8°.)—M. Spigatis, 23 Marienstr., Leipzig, Romanische Philologie. (No. 13, 965 titles.)—Henry Stevens & Son, 39 Great Russell St., London, Americana. (No. 33, 769-788 p., 12°.)—S. Zickel, 129 Duane St., N. Y., Systematisches Lager-Verzeichniss, mit ausführlichem Schlagwörter-Verzeichniss. (227+99 p., 16°, bds.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE Waverly Company have in press an illustrated edition of Paul Bourget's "Cosmopolis," with chapter head and tail pieces and full-page cuts.

A. G. SULLIVAN & Co., 47 Liberty Street, New York, announce "Key to the World's Great Cipher: a full translation of the Book of Revelation, and the key to the whole great problem of the Bible."

PHELPS & KELLOGG, Albany, N. Y., have ready the "New York State Legislative Souvenir for 1893." This is the second year of its publication, and it contains, besides fine half-tone portraits of the members of the legislature, officers, reporters, Gov. Flower, Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, Senator Murphy and others, an illustrated article upon the capitol building.

D. C. HEATH & Co., Boston, have in press a number of little elementary French texts with notes, vocabulary, list of irregular verbs and a grammatical appendix. These are designed to furnish beginners, or those who have read but little, with interesting reading edited especially for that stage of progress. Jules Verne's "L'Expédition de la Jeune-Hardie," just issued, is the first to appear—an interesting little narrative.

WE regret to learn that the book-store of Robert Clarke & Co., 63-65 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, was damaged by fire on the morning of February 25. About five thousand dollars' worth of rare books were destroyed. The fire started in the cellar among an accumulation of dust, rags and paper, but was extinguished before the building was injured. A number of cheaper books stored in the cellar were ruined by the water. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

WARD, LOCK, BOWDEN & Co.'s next volume in their Minerva Library of Famous Books will be a new edition of George Borrow's remarkable work "Lavengro," which will contain a lengthy and specially written introduction by Theodore Watts, a recognized authority upon Gypsy folklore and language, and Borrow's intimate friend. Other attractions will be two engravings showing Borrow's home at Oulton (now pulled down) as well as the summer-house where he worked.

GINN & Co. will publish early in this month "The Principles of History," the "Historik" of the late Johann Gustav Droysen, Professor of History in the University of Berlin. The "Historik" was the syllabus which Prof. Droysen used to place in the hands of the advanced classes in history as a basis for his extended lectures on the encyclopædia and methodology of history. While relating primarily to history, it comprises in outline a philosophy of religion, literature and pedagogy, all in one. The translation is by Dr. E. Benj. Andrews, President of Brown University. A biography of Dr. Droysen is included.

A PRETTY Easter carol, by Rachel A. La Fontaine, has been privately printed and delicately gotten up in white leatherette decorated with a large cross beautified with roses and lilies and printed in green. "Deck the Altar with Blossoms Fair" is the title. There are six verses, all closing with a repeated Alleluia. The little book is printed on one side of the paper only and the words and illustrations are printed in green. The book is for sale at the office of Far and Near and the money it brings in will be used for the benefit of working girls. A motto chosen from a sermon of Bishop Phillips Brooks and a facsimile of the Bishop's signature opens this Easter offering. The retail price is 75 cents.

ONE of Howard Pyle's sea tales is inscribed to Alfred Leighton Howe, a graduate of the Naval Academy, now in civil life. The dedication was partly the result of friendship and partly of gratitude. When Mr. Pyle was writing the book Mr. Howe lived in Wilmington, Del., and the two were friends. In the course of the story Mr. Pyle, who knows something of seamanship, as of many other things, got his imaginary ship on a lee shore and then found himself quite unable to bring her off consistently with ordinary rules of navigation. In this extremity he appealed to Mr. Howe, and the latter made some suggestions that enabled Mr. Pyle to go on with his story. In gratitude for Mr. Howe's friendly and timely aid Mr. Pyle inscribed the book to his friend.

THE WEST PUBLISHING CO., St. Paul, have issued "A Description of the Home Establishment of the National Reporter System, with some account of the Business of the West Publishing Company." It is a well-printed 30-page pamphlet, illustrated with twenty process cuts, describing in interesting style a trip through the establishment of this great law-publishing firm. An account of the different departments of the eight-story building and of the various processes necessary to the evolution of the bound volumes of "Reports" from the ms. copies of decisions sent in from the courts of the States, is given, and there is a short history of the development of the business since the prospectus of the "Federal Reporter" (the first of the series) was first issued in 1880.

MRS. ELLA STERLING CUMMINS, 1605 Baker St., San Francisco, has completed "The Story of the Files," a volume, now in press, which records the periodical literature of California. It contains a review of the literary journals and magazines of California from 1852 to 1892, brief biographical sketches of their contributors, a catalogue of the best-known books published by Californians, and many portraits, designs of headings and newspaper trade-marks, etc. Mrs. Cummins is author, editor and publisher of the book, which is issued under the auspices of the Californian World's Fair Commission. It is of importance to all interested in Californian literature and should be of special value to libraries as a reference-book and index to the periodical literature of the Pacific coast.

CHARLES L. WEBSTER & CO. have arranged for the early publication of a new novel by Miss Matt Crim, the author of "Adventures of a Fair Rebel," etc. It will be called "Elizabeth: Christian Scientist," and will deal with the career of a refined and deeply religious girl, who leaves her home in the Georgia mountains with the object of converting the world to Christian science. Her romantic experiences in the great cities of the Union are portrayed; and the fact that, after all, her destiny is to be loved and wedded does not detract from the book's interest. The true aims and spirit of Christian science are set forth by Miss Crim in a manner intended to do away with many alleged false impressions. They will issue early in the Spring a volume of "Stories from the Rabbis," by Dr. Abram S. Isaacs, professor of German and Hebrew at the University of New York and editor of The Jewish Messenger. Dr. Isaacs has gathered from the Talmud and Midrash and retold in prose a number of entertaining tales illustrating the wit, the pathos, the sober wisdom and the broad humanity of the rabbis.

MACMILLAN & CO. will publish shortly, uniform with their one-volume editions of Tennyson, Wordsworth and Shelley, the collected edition of Coleridge's "Poetical Works," upon which Mr. Dykes Campbell has been engaged for some time past. The text, according to the London Athenaeum, is founded upon the edition of 1829, which is the last upon which the author was able to bestow personal care and attention. To the poems comprised in it have been added, as far as possible in chronological order, (1) all those omitted by Coleridge from the various collections issued in his lifetime, (2) all those hitherto added by his editors from whatever source, (3) a number which have escaped their notice, and (4) a further considerable number of poems and fragments which have hitherto remained in ms. These last appear with the sanction of Mr. Ernest Coleridge, the author's grandson and literary executor. In a long introduction Mr. Campbell has supplied a more complete and accurate narrative of the events of the poet's life than has yet appeared. In the appendices are given the original versions of several poems which afterward underwent great alteration, while the notes, which are unusually full, will, it is believed, throw much new light upon the circumstances under which many of the poems were written, and so be of service not only to students of the poems, but to all who are interested in the character and career of the poet.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. are publishing by subscription a new and beautiful edition of Dumas' romances. This Illustrated Library Edition, which is to be strictly limited to one thousand numbered sets, will possess every advantage which can be derived from clear and readable type, choice paper, beautiful and artistic printing, and illustrations embodying the skill and imagination of the best artists and engravers. The printing will be done by the University Press, Cambridge, on "Enfield hand-made paper," free from glaze. The volumes will be small octavo, pleasant and convenient to hold, and will be embellished with nearly two hundred and fifty beautiful full-page plates, comprising etchings, photographs and engraved portraits of famous historical personages, all of which will be unlettered proofs on imperial Japan paper. The complete set will comprise forty-eight volumes, two or more of which will be issued monthly. The translations will be complete and unabridged, carefully following the author's own text and containing much matter usually omitted, but necessary to a proper comprehension of the stories. Four of the stories, "Olympe de Cleves," "The Companions of Jehu," "The Whites and the Blues" and "The She-Wolves of Machecoul," have never before been translated. The romances will be divided into historical groups and will be published in the chronological order in which they should be read, beginning with the "Period of Henri II.," which includes "The Two Dianas" and "The Page of the Duke of Savoy," and concluding with the "Period of Louis Philippe," which is treated in "The She-Wolves of Machecoul." The first seven volumes are now ready.

FOREIGN NOTES.

BURNS has just been done into Italian by Signor Otensi, who has already translated the works of Edgar Allen Poe.

CHAPMAN & HALL will publish at once "The Emancipation of South America," being a condensed translation of a work by General Mitre, the first president of the Argentine Republic. It will be illustrated with maps.

PERCIVAL & Co. have in press "Recollections of Dr. John Brown," by Dr. Alexander Peddie. This will supply in part a biography of the author of "Rab and His Friends," of whom curiously enough no biography as yet exists.

AFTER an interval of several years the third part of the "New Dictionary of the Welsh Language," by the Rev. D. Silvan Evans, including the whole of the letter C, is now completed, and will shortly be issued to subscribers by the publishers, W. Spurrell & Son, Carmarthen, Wales.

THE clever novel called "An Exquisite Fool," which appeared some little time ago and attracted general attention owing to the writer's graceful English and refinement of tone, turns out to be by Miss Poynter, the well-known author of "My Little Lady" and several other pleasant works of fiction.

EDEN, REMINGTON & Co. will shortly publish the Memoirs of Ernest Legouvé, of the Académie Française, entitled "Sixty Years of Recollections," translated, with notes, by the editor of "An Englishman in Paris." They have also in the press a novel entitled "Chidioc Tichbourne," by the late Marcus Clarke.

THE French Academy has resolved to abandon for the present its "Dictionnaire Historique," a history of words which, after forty years' work on it, has not yet, in four volumes, reached the end of the letter A. The academy is anxious to devote its whole attention to the edition of the ordinary dictionary soon to be published.

H. GREVEL & Co., London, are preparing an English edition, by Miss Constance Bache, of Franz Liszt's letters, collected by La Mara. The books will contain between six and seven hundred letters, the first volume comprising those written during Liszt's years of study, and the second volume those written during his years of travel.

T. FISHER UNWIN has just ready Miss Owen's curious collection of stories of Indian and negro folk-lore under the title of "Old Rabbit, the Voodoo and Other Sorcerers." Charles Godfrey Leland has contributed an introduction, and the volume has been profusely illustrated by Miss Juliette A. Owen, sister of the author, and Mr. Lewis Wain.

MATHEWS & LANE, London, have nearly ready William Watson's long-promised prose volume, "Excursions in Criticism," and also a new poem, written last autumn, entitled "The Eloping Angels: a caprice." This last volume—for which Warrington Hogg has designed a title-page—is a companion in form to the author's "Epigrams."

JAMES CLEGG, Rochdale, Eng., has in press the fourth edition of "The International Directory of Second-Hand Booksellers and Bibliophile's Manual," including lists of public libraries (British and foreign), publishers, learned and scientific societies, theological colleges, etc. The directory will be revised to date, and promises to be even more useful than it has already proved in the past.

W. DRYSDALE & Co., Montreal, desire to notify the trade that owing to new and stringent regulations on the part of the Canadian customs authorities, the value must be marked on all parcels sent to Canada, whether for enclosure, by express direct, or by mail. Care must also be taken to see that any enclosures, especially editorial copies, are clearly marked on invoice, and that invoices are certified correct.

SWAN SONNENSCHN & Co. will shortly publish "An Account of the Fire Insurance Offices, Schemes, etc., of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries," by F. B. Relton, late secretary of the Sun Fire Office. The work will contain particulars of various schemes not noticed by Walford in his "Insurance Cyclopædia," and apparently unknown to him. It will also give information respecting the fire insurance schemes of Charles Povey, the projector of the Sun Fire Office, the history of which company has never before been given to the world. It will further contain details of the life, writings and schemes of that remarkable personage which have now for the first time been collected.

J. M. DENT & Co. have in press a new edition of "Le Morte Darthur," to be issued in two volumes, and probably in ten monthly parts also. The text will be that of the 1485 edition printed by Caxton, but the spelling will be partly modernized, obsolete words and such as have changed their meanings alone being printed in the old spelling. Prof. Rhys is to contribute an introduction, and Mr. Aubrey Beardsley is supplying drawings for ten photogravure and twenty other full-page illustrations, besides a separate design for the border around the first page of each of the twenty-one books, and a variety of chapter headings on a new plan.

BERNARD QUARITCH has just issued the great "Fac-simile Atlas of the Early History of Cartography," by Baron A. E. Nordenskiöld, a work said by authorities to be indispensable as furnishing by far the best apparatus for studying the growth of geographical science and the gradual enlargement of knowledge with regard to the surface of the globe. The text of the work is rendered from the Swedish, by Ekelöf and Clements R. Markham, and it contains reproductions of the most important maps printed in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Fifty-one of these large maps are printed as plates, and eighty-four of smaller size are printed with the letter-press. This scientific work may be regarded as almost exhaustive of its subject.

B. F. STEVENS will publish soon the xvth volume of his "Fac-similes of Manuscripts in European Archives Relating to America, 1773-1783." It continues from previous volumes the official and diplomatic correspondence of the English ambassador in Paris with the minister for foreign affairs, and of the French ambassador in London with his court, in so far as it relates to American matters. Amongst this correspondence are some letters from Beaumarchais; also one dated from Skenesborough, July 13, 1777, containing interesting details from General Fraser, commanding a brigade in Burgoyne's ill-fated army. Fraser was mortally wounded in the action at Stillwater on the 7th of October, a few days before the surrender at Saratoga.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Books for Exchange," the charge is 10 cents per line. No deduction for standing matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

HAVE JUST PUBLISHED:

Life of Benjamin Franklin.

Written by himself. Edited from original manuscripts and from his printed correspondence and other writings. By JOHN BIGELOW. Third edition, revised and corrected. Three volumes, crown 8vo, cloth, $4.50.

Since the appearance of the previous editions the author of these volumes has been able to gather from the Stevens' collection, from the letters of Franklin to his early friend William Strahan and from other less copious sources new and interesting information never before published. Among the articles are some the peculiar interest of which will be manifest from their titles. "Preparatory notes and hints for writing a paper concerning what is called catching cold," "Notes on the condition of his health from 1778 to 1780," "Personal expense accounts with Congress during the first two years of his official residence in Paris," "A fragment of his diary for 1780," "An elaborate account of the first successful balloon experiment ever made, addressed to Sir Joseph Banks, then president of the Royal Society of London," etc. None of these papers, save the last, which was printed anonymously in the Federal Gazette of March 25, 1790, appear to have ever been consulted by any previous biographer.

This edition also contains several additional interesting illustrations.

A Leafless Spring.

A new novel by OSSIP SCHUBIN. Translated from the German by Mary J. Safford. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"In Ossip Schubin novels," says the London Athenæum, "we are brought face to face in the first pages with the men and women whose fortunes we are to follow. Our attention is arrested at once, and is well sustained through the admirably drawn episodes of cosmopolitan life—the subject-matter from which these stories are generally taken. There is nothing elaborate in the workmanship, no studied effort after effect, and no minute analysis of character, and yet we know these charming, well-bred, well-dressed men and women, and feel familiar with them. We recognize their idiosyncrasies, think of them by their nicknames, distinguish their individuality, and mark their family resemblance."

OTHER NOVELS BY THE SAME AUTHOR:

12mo, cloth, $1.25 each.

COUNTESS ERIKA'S APPRENTICESHIP.

"O THOU, MY AUSTRIA!"

John Gray.

A Kentucky tale of the olden time. By JAMES LANE ALLEN. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

"It is in a different vein from that which characterizes Kentucky stories—a vein so tender and human and sympathetic as to render it the most charming story of Kentucky life that we ever read."—Boston Home Journal.

Our Own Birds.

A Familiar Natural History of the Birds of the United States, revised and edited by EDWARD J. COPE, Corresponding Secretary of the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia. New edition, containing, in addition to the numerous illustrations, twelve new half-tone plates. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

NEARLY READY:

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX.

INCLUDING PERIODICALS, AMERICAN AND ENGLISH, ESSAYS, BOOK-CHAPTERS, ETC.,
SPECIAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND NECROLOGY OF AUTHORS.

EDITED BY W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER,

With the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of the Library Journal staff.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX for 1892 is a new enterprise, complementing the "Annual American Catalogue" of books published in 1892 by indexing (1) articles in periodicals published in 1892; (2) essays and book-chapters in composite books of 1892; (3) authors of periodical articles and essays; (4) special bibliographies of 1892; (5) authors deceased in 1892. The two volumes together make a complete record of the literary product of the year.

The new volume includes the features of the "Co-operative Index to Periodicals," originally a monthly supplement to the Library Journal, then extended into a quarterly in an enlarged form, and later issued as an annual volume.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX for 1892 forms the first supplement both to the new five-yearly volume (1887-1891) of Poole's Index to Periodical Literature and to the new A. L. A. Index to essays and book chapters of Mr. Fletcher.

The new volume will more than fulfil the opinion as to the Co-operative Index expressed in the following extract:

"To the literary worker its value can hardly be overestimated; to the specialist in any branch of science or letters it is indispensable, since it places within his immediate reach many of the latest fruits of labor in the same field; to every one who desires to be well informed it furnishes the means of making the most effective use of his time."—Providence Press.

By REUBEN GOLD THWAITES, Secretary of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, author of "Historic Waterways," etc. With four colored maps, pp. xviii.-301, cloth, $1.25.

"The object of the writer has been to produce a good text-book for schools, or a brief résumé for the use of the general reader. He has succeeded; the work is well done. The style is clear and agreeable. . . . The most important facts in the history of the period have been correctly stated. . . . Much information has been compressed within a limited space."—Political Science Quarterly.

II. FORMATION OF THE UNION, 1750-1829.

By ALBERT BUSHNELL HART, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University. Member of the Massachusetts Historical Society; author of "Introduction to the Study of Federal Government," "Epoch Maps," etc. With five colored maps, pp. xx.-278, cloth, $1.25. [Recently published.]

"The formation period of our nation is treated with much care and with great precision. Each chapter is prefaced with copious references to authorities, which are valuable to the student who desires to pursue his reading more extensively. There are five valuable maps showing the growth of our country by successive stages and repeated acquisition of territory."—Boston Advertiser.

"It is a careful and conscientious study of the period and its events, and should find a place among the text-books of our public schools."—Boston Transcript.

THE ONLY AUTHORIZED EDITION.

Cosmopolis.

By PAUL BOURGET. With handsome cover in five colors, 50 cents.

The controversy that has been going on between Tait, Sons & Co. and ourselves, concerning the authorization of our respective editions of "Cosmopolis," has taken on a new phase in the last few days. In answer to a letter addressed to Alphonse Lemerre, the Paris publisher, we received from him the following message by cable: "We send you exclusive right. Lemerre." As this seemed to be in direct contradiction to the statement of Messrs. Tait, we asked M. Lemerre by cable what right he had given Tait, Sons & Co. The reply, which was dated Feb. 21, was as follows: "Right refused Tait on account of not sending money."

When we received some weeks ago a letter from Tait, Sons & Co., informing us that they were authorized by the Paris publisher to issue the only American edition of "Cosmopolis," and had paid a large sum for the privilege, we believed their statements, for the reason that we usually consider men to be honest until they prove themselves otherwise; but the action of Messrs. Tait in assuming to themselves the only authority to publish the book, when they had, in fact, paid nothing for the right, demonstrates that these gentlemen were not without guile. Not satisfied with making "peculiar" claims as to their own authority, Messrs. Tait have gone out of their way to make misleading statements concerning us. The cablegrams quoted above are a sufficient proof of our right. We shall continue to be, as we have been, the only authorized publishers in America of Paul Bourget's "Cosmopolis."

This excellent translation is issued as No. 19 of SERGEL'S INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY, the best series now published.

Tait, Sons & Company's New Books.

JUST ISSUED:

Loaded Dice.

By EDGAR FAWCETT, author of "An Ambitious Woman," "The House at High Bridge," etc. 12mo, cloth gilt, $1.25

Mr. Fawcett has given the reader of his best in this new story from his prolific pen. The scene is laid in Paris and the characters are drawn from American, English and Continental types. The story is cleverly written, interesting throughout, and exciting in many of its situations. Though it deals with the social lapses of a woman of the world, the story is delicately told and with a proper regard to the moral sensibilities of the most fastidious reader.

Christine.

By ADELINE SERGEANT, author of "Beyond Recall," "A Life Sentence," etc. 12mo, cloth ornamental, $1.00; paper, 50 cents. Holyrood Series.

In "Christine" the reader is transported at once to Egypt, and introduced to a score of likable people whose weal or woe is eagerly followed. Many strong passages occur that set forth a man's nobility and a frail woman's heroism. The old, old theme of true love tried and good triumphant is woven through the plot. In brief, this story of a young girl's life in a foreign land is in every way fascinating, because of its pathos, its purity, and its fidelity to life.

Wrostella's Weird.

By HELEN MATHERS, author of "T'Other Dear Charmer," "Hedri," "Comin' Thro' the Rye," etc. 18mo, paper, 25 cents. Shandon Series.

A sparkling little love-story written in Helen Mathers' well-known style. Wrostella is a dreary old castle situated in the heart of an Irish bog, whither, by the provision of a singular will, the young heir to the estate is forced to live four months of the year. Happenings tragic and comic attend the first attempt to abide by the strange command. The story is most diverting, well told, and sure to take its place beside the writer's earlier efforts in the field of fiction.

PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED:

The Only Authorized Edition.

Cosmopolis.

By PAUL BOURGET. A masterly and unabridged translation. Large 12mo, cloth ornamental, $1.50; paper, 50 cents.

"The work is full of life and variety; its personages talk and act like human beings and not like analytical subjects." —The Athenæum.

"François Coppée has justly said that 'Cosmopolis' is Bourget's chef-d'œuvre. It is the triumphant affirmation that man is not complete, and that a people is never great except through moral beauty and religious regeneration. With exquisite art Bourget colors this conclusion." —New York Sun.

The Grand Chaco.

By GEORGE MANVILLE FENN, author of "The Weathercock," "The Dingo Boys," "In the Wilds of New Mexico," etc. Profusely illustrated. Large 12mo, cloth ornamental, $1.50.

"The Grand Chaco' is a book that boys of every age will revel in. The information it contains about the South American forests is varied and trustworthy." —Boston Beacon.

"The Grand Chaco,' like all of Mr. Fenn's books, is written with vigor and animation, and without being vigorously instructive, vividly impresses the swarming life of these regions upon the reader." —The Boston Herald.

Stories and Sketches.

By GRACE GREENWOOD, author of "My Tour in Europe," "Queen Victoria, Her Girlhood and Womanhood," etc. 12mo, cloth gilt, $1.00.

"The work is permeated with a genuine womanly sentiment and will appeal to a wide variety of tastes." —Boston Beacon.

"The volume is charming and especially to be commended to young readers, because it is what they should be 'bright and not too knowing.'" —Boston Herald.
